

WE SATELLITES - ELECTRICO

>> Electrico is back, promising darker and edgier sounds with We Satellites. While they're moving deeper into electronica territory (check out the sick beats on the opening track, Zero), half the album still features the power pop-playing band we all know and love, in songs like Travel on the Sun and Hail to the Friends. Save Our Souls also sends shivers down our spines with its haunting loops that linger like lost spaceships. We've got a livewire, boys!
